

Qualys Wins Best Vulnerability Management Solution at SC Awards 2020

March 10, 2020

Honor affirms leadership position in vulnerability management market

FOSTER CITY, Calif., March 10, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Qualys, Inc. (NASDAQ: QLYS), a pioneer and leading provider of cloud-based security and compliance solutions, today announced that it was recognized for having the Best Vulnerability Management solution at the SC 2020 Awards in San Francisco.

"Security professionals must manage increasingly complex hybrid IT environments, seek compliance with a growing number of stringent privacy regulations, and accurately assess risks posed by possibly hundreds of third-party partners," said Illena Armstrong, VP, editorial, SC Media. "Qualys and our other Trust Award winners are among the best at helping organizations face these and many more security challenges head on."

"We are delighted to win the SC Media Trust Award for Best Vulnerability Management Solution," said Philippe Courtot, chairman and CEO of Qualys. "We have been working hard over these many years to operationalize vulnerability management, which was not a trivial task. Now with our newly launched Vulnerability Management, Detection and Response (VMDR®) offering, we are closer to that goal. VMDR provides an all-in-one cloud-based app that automates the entire vulnerability management cycle across on-premises, endpoints, cloud, mobile, containers, OT and IOT environments – significantly accelerating the ability of organizations to respond to threats, and prevent breaches. Furthermore, VMDR now allows our customers to implement a true risk-based vulnerability management solution tailored to their specific environment and not one based on CVEs and an arbitrary score that gives you a false sense of security."
